They are to be cigar shaped and will contain 13,000,000 feet of lumber. A saving of freight of $2 per 1,000 feet will be effected. J. D. Sprinkle & Co. and M. The merit of the coal is that it is a smokeless fuel and can be sold cheaper than Welsh coal, which is used by the navy now.

QUEBEC, Sept. 28.—No one has dared to work at the debris since yesterday morning, seeing that under the action of torrents of rain which have fallen, they have decided that a second avalanche would be hurled down on them. Another fissure is visible and the side cliff is somewhat bulged out. The general opinion is that a couple of days more rain or a night's frost will determine the second landslide.

An Immense Demonstration—An Elegant and Telling Address.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—The Young Liberals gave Hon. Mr. Laurier a great demonstration in the Pavilion last night. When Laurier, Mowat, Fisher and several of the ministers of the Ontario cabinet mounted the platform they were received with prolonged applause. Laurier in his speech disclaimed any intention on the part of the Roman Catholic church of placing the supremacy of the Pope over the supremacy of the state. It would, he thought, be a treasonable act for the legislature of Quebec to attempt to substitute the authority of the Pope for that of the Queen. He concluded with an eloquent and telling effort for continental free trade in their fight for which, he said, he believed the Liberal party was on the verge of victory.

DR. CLARK'S WHITE LINIMENT,
The Best Stable Liniment in the World.

Preparing Cattle for Shows.
William Watson, the champion American feeder, in an article on preparing cattle for fat stock shows, gives expression to the following: Never allow the animals to be without a lump of rock salt within reach, also a lump of chalk. We all know the benefit of salt, it replaces the saline matter washed from the system through various channels; it also greatly increases the flow of saliva, therefore hastens fattening. Chalk counteracts acidity of the stomach, which is subject to when housed and kept on rich feed. As the animals are deprived of access to earth or dirt, you will find the best substitute is to provide them with a piece of fresh turf twice a week, which they will greedily eat. On the subject of temperature, Mr. Watson says: Cattle thrive amazingly well at a temperature ranging from 45 degs. to 50 degs. in winter; at 10 degs. higher they generally sweat profusely. A thermometer ought to be in every stable.

Remedy for Dry Murrain.
The following remedy for dry murrain, and also good for sheep and bloated calves, is given by Hoard's Dairyman: For a full grown animal one to two pounds of Glauber salts dissolved in three pints of hot water—stir in flower of sulphur until it is about as thick as will run through the neck of a bottle, and pour it down the animal with a long necked bottle. Vary according to the severity of the case, size and age. The earlier it is attended to after the attack, the easier it is removed. If the first dose is not effective repeat it in ten or twelve hours. There is no danger in giving this medicine, as it will not injure a healthy animal.

Sheep are subject to the same disease and it is equally effective for them, also for bloated calves, but should be given to sheep and calves in much smaller quantities.

A Bible Expression.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1889.

THE BOW RIVER BRIDGE.

Although the sum of $2,500 was voted by the Dominion Parliament last year for improving the approaches, painting, etc., of the Langevin bridge over the Bow, nothing hitherto has been done. What repairs have been made, have been made by the Calgary members out of funds which are scanty enough for other useful works, and the bridge itself needs flooring, painting and other repairs if it is to be kept in proper condition. Perhaps D. W. Davis, M. P., will see about the contract for repairs and painting being let, and perhaps he won't. We rather imagine that if the town council would communicate with the Department of Public Works about the matter, something would be done this Autumn. The sooner something is done, the better.

AGRICULTURAL SHOW.

This event is drawing very near now and we are glad to say that the list of exhibits promises to be a fine one. It will be remembered that all members of the Association are allowed to exhibit without any additional fee, and as the contrary rule was always a source of irritation before to exhibitors, no doubt the removal of the annoyance is having its effect. A large number of the Ontario excursionists who are now in town intend to remain over for the exhibition, so that it is in the interest of every settler to make the show as complete a one of the produce of this section as is possible. The directors have spared no pains to make everything a complete success, and the two or three racing events which have been added will no doubt have the effect of making the celebration popular to every corner.

Farmers must remember that visiting strangers are sure to judge of the capabilities of this country from what they see placed on exhibition at the forthcoming show, and if we are to secure a goodly number of new settlers from the visitors, the show must be a complete one. Every good settler induced to settle here by this or other means improves the value of every farm in the district, so that a successful Fall show is not a matter of sentiment, but a direct source of pecuniary gain to every farmer in the country.

THE VOCALION.

The vocalion is a new musical instrument, invented by Mr. J. Baillie Hamilton, brother-in-law to the Marquis of Lorne, and is attracting a great deal of attention at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition. When Sir and Lady Macdonald opened the Exhibition they visited the hall where the vocalion was, and the Mail reports that "as the distinguished party entered the annex the National Anthem pealed forth, and the purity, beauty, power, and carrying property of the vocalion were made apparent." The Mail gives several interesting particulars: "With the vocalion the construction is practically the same as the process employed by nature in the production of tone, and the tone emitted has all the purity, beauty, variety intrinsic musical value, power, and carrying property of the human voice, making this the instrument for solo, orchestral, or devotional purposes. Lady Macdonald exactly expressed the purpose for which the vocalion is adapted when she remarked yesterday, as the full diapason pealed through the building, immediately followed by the most delicate pianissimo, 'What a blessing that invention will be to small churches.'"

The sale of the vocalion is controlled by Messrs. Mason & Ritch of Toronto, but the demand has been so great that J. W. Clarke & Co., their agents in Calgary have not yet been able to obtain a sample one. There is one in Winnipeg, three in the churches at Vancouver, one at Nainiam, one at New Westminster and one at Victoria.

It is a great pity that one of Calgary's churches does not purchase one of these fine instruments. The price is about $650, and the press speak so highly of them, that there can be no doubt of their quality.

We should think that the congregation of any of our local churches could easily obtain subscriptions enough in town to get one, and both the congregation and the town would have reason to feel proud of it.

A RAILWAY SOUTH.

Ex-Governor Hauser, of Helena, Montana, told a large land owner in Northern Montana, that in his opinion the building of the road from Benton to Lethbridge was an assured fact. He stated that Sir Alexander Galt had met the Northern Pacific in New York a few days ago for the purpose of getting them to subscribe a certain amount to the capital stock of the new railway. The amount was promptly subscribed, when Mr. Galt announced that he had all the money he needed to build the road. The bulk of stock has been taken in England. Sir Alexander then left immediately for England to finally complete his arrangements for commencing work on the line. It is expected that some work will be done this Fall yet. If so it is very likely that the work will commence at Fort Benton.

This is taken from the River Press, and now the question is, what is Calgary going to do about it? If we are to get connection south it seems evident that we must reach Lethbridge. The "committee" or "directors" or whatever they may be of the "Calgary, Alberta & Mont." Railway might employ their superfluous energies in opening up communication with these railway magnates who are building railways everywhere except in this direction, and find out what the chances are for getting a line from Calgary to Lethbridge. The "charter," which our citizens have got, may not be as big a bait as it looks on paper, but perhaps something might be done with it if it could be placed in the right hands. It is reasonably sure that the right men will take hold of it, if a land grant can be secured, but it is equally sure that a land grant cannot be secured until the first of December 1890 when the charter of the Alberta & Great Northwestern expires, and even then it is ten to one but that the latter road will get their charter extended if they are not ready to go on at that date.

If the Alberta & Great Northwestern are ready to build south with the 6,400 acres a mile they have got south of the U. P. R., of course everyone will be satisfied, but the only way to make them to the line, is to be ready to step into their shoes if they will not go on.

Stepping into their shoes is only possible if the Northern Pacific or a similarly strong company take up the Calgary Alberta & Montana charter and obtain a land grant for it in case of default by the other company and it is with a view to securing this that the committee appointed by the citizens of Calgary should take active steps.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL'S VISIT.

If Calgary intends to offer the Governor General a reception on his arrival in Calgary, it is about time that a move was made by our citizens to ascertain what form the reception should take and to make suitable provision for it. It is to be regretted that His Excellency found himself unable to be present at the opening of the Agricultural Exhibition here, when he would have had a most favorable opportunity of seeing for himself the capabilities of the farthest west in cereals, roots and stock, but as it is, the citizens and settlers will have to look to some other way of rendering the "vice-regal visit pleasant and noteworthy. It would be an ill advised and unheard of thing that the representative of the crown should visit so populous and important a section as this, and no fitting welcome be extended to him. It is true that in the west people are not given to tuff-hunting, and that the very dignity of the office held by Lord Stanley has rather a chilling effect on western sympathies, but it would be an extraordinary barbarism to let the visit go uncelebrated, and Calgary would gain the unpleasant notoriety of being the only place which the Governor General has visited in Canada without the people turning out en masse to receive him.

We think that on an occasion of this kind, the Town Council is the proper body to take the initiatory steps and prepare to welcome the head of the body politic of the Dominion. The presence of the Governor General in our midst is neither a frequent nor an informal event, and the same formalities are used on such occasions as would be requisite on the occasion of the arrival here of the Sovereign. No doubt the Board of Trade, Agricultural Society and the Public and Mission schools will take their part and present their addresses, but the Town Council as the representative of the citizens as a whole is undoubtedly called upon to receive Lord Stanley and extend a welcome to him on behalf of the town.

In addition to his official capacity, the present Governor General should be welcomed heartily on account of his political eminence in England and more than all on account of his social qualities, which have already gained him in the east an enviable reputation as the soul of courtesy and good will. In Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto, where Canadians have frequent opportunities of seeing him and comparing him with his more than distinguished predecessors, he is exceedingly popular, and we fancy nothing would please him better than a reception at which he could meet all our citizens and mix freely with them.

At all events it is not many days before His Excellency will be here, and it is certainly to be hoped for the good name and fame of the town that the Town Council will not postpone action until it is too late to give him a reception of the right good western sort.

The "Drop the nickel in the slot" nuisance is being put to various uses. In some western cities (American of course) the machines are used for the sale of neat little bottles of whiskey, so as to defeat the Sunday closing law. Grip suggests that real estate men should use them, so that the passer by in suburban regions will be confronted by a machine bearing the legend:

"Drop a dollar in the slot
And get your deed for a vacant lot."

The Macleod Gazette thinks civil police magistrates should be appointed for all the principal centres in the Northwest. The bill which Mr. Dewdney submitted last session, and which was held over for this, contains a clause providing for such appointments. Would it not be a good deal better however to give the Lieutenant Governor power to appoint police magistrates in the same way as he has to appoint justices of the peace, and let the Northwest Assembly provide the details on the basis of the Ontario Act?

The contest between Chas. McKenzie, brother of Hon. Alexander McKenzie, and Mr. Fleck for the local house, in west Lambton is waxing vigorous. Mr. Fleck represents the Conservatives and Equal Rights, and Mr. McKenzie is of course a supporter of the Mowat Government. Probably the Jesuit question will have very little weight in west Lambton, and Mowat's majority has always been six or seven hundred in the constituency. The only way Mr. Fleck can win will be by the quarrelling amongst the Grits themselves, a good many of whom wanted the nomination.

It is stated in Calgary that in the event of two members only being allowed for Alberta at the next general election for the Dominion House, D. W. Davis M. P. for Alberta said he would advise that the railway track be made the dividing line between the two constituencies. This would probably render his own election safe for another term, but it would render Calgary powerless in choosing a member. Fancy the largest town in the Territories being cut in two to render one man seat secure! That would be gerrymandering with a vengeance. We hope for the sake of Calgary that the report is untrue. If it is true, Calgary cannot protest too vigorously, and if the government does not heed the protest, then, it will probably record its protest in the usual way at the polls.

The latest theory in regard to the Whitechapel murderer is that "he" is a woman. This is the view of an English scientist who is described as a "gynecologist." He also hazards the opinion that this woman performs her butcheries while suffering under "epileptic furor." Furor of something very likely. Perhaps the gynecologist will by and by explain what kind of a furor the London Police are suffering from; or whether a "cataleptic torpor" would not cover their case.

Our Eastern Visitors.

The gentlemen who came to Calgary by the excursion which left Ontario on the 24th September have been making good use of their time since their arrival, in looking round the town and making excursions into the country to see the grain as it is being threshed and to take stock of the improvements that have been made in the short space of three years, that any farming to speak of has been doing in this district.

The weather has not been bad though hardly up to the average at this time of the year. Those who were in town on Sunday and witnessed the dust blow, saw the worst feature of Calgary weather. A party of these gentlemen numbering thirty teen who were taken out into the country yesterday by Mr. Joseph Maw, called at the Herald office last evening and expressed a wish to make their opinions on what they had seen here and on the way from Ontario to Calgary, public, for the benefit of the people of the east who may think of coming to any part of the great west. In the first place they wished to express their entire satisfaction with the treatment, attention and accommodation they had received from the Canadian Pacific Railway on their trip out. On the way through Manitoba and the Territories they had taken notes and, with the exception of a few places such as Portage la Prairie, had seen nothing to compare with Calgary district in anyway. Mr. Maw as their guide had taken out via the Dewdney bridge to the Macleod trail, taking in Mr. Graves' and Mr. Standish's farms and many other places. They visited farms where threshing was going on and saw for themselves the spring wheat, oats and barley as it came from the machine, and as they remarked, could not be fooled about the product and quality of the grain, they knew it was not picked samples they were looking at, each of the gentlemen agreed in the statement that the grain, especially the wheat, is away ahead of Ontario.

It will be noticed by the P. O. address of these parties that they represent many different good districts of Ontario. One of them said, in a country that will produce such spring wheat as we saw, it is no difference whether winter wheat can be raised or not.

They said, we are prepared to advise all parties in Ontario who think of coming to the west to live, to come to Calgary district. The abundance of coal in every direction, the low price of good lumber, the facility for getting cedar posts for fencing, the pure water, the abundant grass, the presence of building and lime stone together with the rich prairie soil, they considered were about all that nature needed to do to make this a first class country to farm in.

When in the Herald office they were shown a copy of the Government weather report from 1st of November to 1st of April, in which it is shown that there were only five days during the winter in which the mercury was not above zero sometime during the 24 hours. This fact surprised them more than any other to which their attention had been yet drawn. They were profuse in their expressions of surprise at the size and solidity of our young town, having seen nothing to touch it since leaving Winnipeg. Several of the party will remain for the Agricultural Show on the 9th and 10th of this month.

Disgraceful Advertisement.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR,—Permit me through the columns of your paper to call the attention of our City Fathers and our property owners to the full page advertisement which appears once a week in the "Tribune" over the signature of the Town Treasurer. This advertisement conveys the idea to a stranger that all of Calgary or the major portion of the city is bankrupt and now offered at public auction for a paltry $500 of outstanding taxes.

I will venture to say that two thirds of this advertisement is due to the culpable negligence of those whom the town has appointed to the positions of collectors. This should certainly be remedied without delay.

G. C. MARSH.

Disgraceful Advertisement.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR,—Referring to my letter of yesterday under this heading, many of our citizens do not seem to understand it rightly. I will give an example. Taxes were collected from me last winter, and until yesterday I found at the Collector's office that no entry of the same had been made in the Collector's books. Lots 29 to 34 inclusive in block 34 section 16, were assessed to Marsh & Geddes, the amount of taxes being $7.20. I hold a receipt for this property signed B. Barber, Treasurer. The payment was made in February or March of this year, this property is advertised for sale.

This is one case out of many that I could cite, would space allow. Many of your readers may say that this is simply a clerical error. I hope that it may be such. The question that ratepayers would like to have answered, is how much longer they are to be burdened with incompetent officials in charge of their revenue. Is it not time that a system of checking up the city Treasurer or city Collector more than once a year should be adopted. If this sale of property is allowed to take place, it seems to me that there will be no end to litigation. I would suggest that the city Council investigate this list of property at the earliest possible date and discontinue its further display in the Tribune until after investigation. Yours Etc.,

G. C. MARSH.

To the Editor of the Herald.

DEAR SIR,—A most noticeable feature in the football match which took place on Saturday, was the confusion which appeared to exist among the players generally as to the code of rules which was in force. This of course was only natural, taking into consideration the fact that many of those who took part in the game had not played for several years. As the rules of Rugby Union Football are constantly liable to change or alteration, your subscriber would suggest that the current rules of the game be published through the columns of your valuable paper for the information of "rusty" enthusiasts. A copy of the rules might also be posted in one or two conspicuous places in town, e.g. at the Police Barracks and at the Royal Hotel. The publicity thus given might save a good deal of discussion on the field with regard to "offside," "fouls," "heeling out," "tackling below the knee," etc., etc. There is no doubt that the less discussion that takes place during a match the pleasanter it is for all parties concerned, both players and spectators.

Might I also suggest that since "accidents will occur" it would be advisable that one or two pairs of "unmentionables" be in readiness for any unfortunate who in the chances of the game may find himself suddenly in a state of nature. It is to be hoped that Rugby Football will become as popular a game in Calgary as it assuredly deserves to be. With apologies for transgressing on your space, I am, yours etc.,

Disease of Calgary.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Synod of the Diocese of Calgary was held in the Parish school house on Saturday last, at 4.30 a. m.

Presentors present, the Bishop in the chair, Rev. A. W. F. Cooper, Secretary, Mr. Pearce, Mr. Jephson and Mr. Braithwaite.

The meeting was opened with prayer and the minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

His Lordship announced the resignation of Rev. F. G. Christmas as incumbent of St. George's Church, Banff, although Mr. Christmas might officiate for a few Sundays. He also stated that the congregation of All Saints', Edmonton, had guaranteed $600 towards the support of a resident clergyman, and that as soon as a suitable man could be found Canon Newton would retire from the incumbency, and attend to the important work of organization in the surrounding district which, with much inconvenience and self sacrifice, he has been for some time carrying on.

The Bishop and Mr. Jephson were appointed to prepare an address to be presented to His Excellency the Governor-General during his visit to Calgary.

Moved by Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. Jephson and resolved, that any extra travelling expenses that have been incurred in taking monthly services at the Blind Man Settlement during the past summer, be defrayed out of the Home Mission Fund.

After the transaction of other business of a mere private nature, the Bishop closed the meeting with the benediction.

A TRUMPETER'S MISTAKE.

A very interesting ceremony is, says the London Telegraph, to take place on Saturday at the Town Hall in the 18th Arrondissement of Paris. On that day will be united in the bonds of wedlock, with a fair and blooming bride, a man who, as the current story goes, played, though in a very humble capacity, an important role in the Crimean war. When the order to retreat was given to the French troops who were storming the Malakoff, Alexandre Baudot, a trumpeter, stepped forward and gave the signal to advance instead. So the tower was taken, and all the old soldiers in Paris who fought on that eventful day have made up their minds to put in an appearance at the mairie, and wish this hero many years of health and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinnisten have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement through the death of their little son. He was apparently well and all right until within a couple of days of his death when he was taken ill from cutting his teeth and was finally carried off by convulsions.

A meeting of those interested in forming a gymnastic club in Calgary was held at the Royal last night. About a dozen were present. After some discussion as to the best place to have a gymnasium whether the fire hall or the old Methodist church, both of which are available, the meeting adjourned till Monday evening next.

President Van Horne is represented to have told a newspaper interviewer that the net earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for 1890 were sure to be $8,000,000. For this year the net result is expected to be $6,000,000.

The mayor and aldermen of Calgary have received invitations from the Citizens Committee of New Westminster, to a ball to be given in the Opera House, on the evening of October 2nd. The ball is to be given on the occasion of the holding of the Provincial Agricultural Exhibition at Westminster, on the 2nd, 4th and 5th of October. Great preparations are being made for a great demonstration and from the programme of sports and other attractions, the city is evidently going to let itself loose.

A telegram was received this morning by Mrs. G. K. Leeson from Mr. Leeson at New Westminster, that he would arrive in Calgary Sunday morning with the remains of his brother Andrew, who died at Spokane Falls two weeks ago to day. The body will be taken to the residence of Mr. Leeson, Angus Avenue. From there the funeral will proceed to the Cathedral at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon and from thence to the Calgary Cemetery.

A vest with a valuable hunting case patent lever silver watch in the pocket was stolen yesterday afternoon about five o'clock from a shack on Stephen Avenue East, the property of Mr. E. Batterick who was working in the house at the time it was taken away. He thinks that some halfbreeds came in when he had his back turned and picked up the vest. He noticed some one disappearing from the door but never thought of anything being stolen till he went to look what time it was. The watch has the name Fenner on the inside of the case. The vest is a dark one with a blue patch on it.

The Victoria Colonist says: William Soule of Vancouver, arrived in the city Saturday. He is one of the owners of the new Canmore colliery near Banff. The Canmore mine, which was discovered six months ago, has now about twenty men at work on it. A sloping tunnel has been sunk into the sides of the hill, following a twelve foot vein. About four hundred tons have been taken out of the mine by the inverted shaft sunk in the centre of the main passage. The coal which is of the semi-anthracite description, is selling at Vancouver at from $11 to $12 per ton. The present depth of the mine is 130 feet and at that sinkage there is little or no water. The extent of the mine property is 75 acres. The coal has been analyzed and pronounced good as smith, steam or domestic coal. Mr. Soule is now trying to get a contract for supplying the ships of the navy at Esquimaux with his coal.

Sunday.

Mr. A. Leeson left for Ontario on a business trip on Sunday morning by No. 3 express.

Mr. Dean and another gentleman were out driving yesterday when the dust blow came up. Their horse took fright and ran away, leaving the occupants of the rig in irregular order on the prairie. We believe there was no considerable harm done except badly dismantling the carriage.

About sixty of the Ontario farmers excursionists who left the east on the 24th inst. have arrived at Calgary. The joint committee of the Town Council and Agricultural Society are arranging to have those who wish, driven out to the surrounding country and see the threshing operations now going on about Calgary.

Tuesday.

A large number of the Ontario excursionists have gone out in the country again today to spy out the land.

There were two liquor convictions at the Barracks today. Mr. Brown acted for the Crown Prosecutor who is out of town.

Mrs. Gibson and family arrived this morning. Mr. Gibson came in last Sunday morning with a carload of settlers effects.

The Edmonton Bulletin has this neighborly reference to Calgary: "Calgary, its surroundings, soil and climate are the ruin of the reputation of the Northwest in the eastern mind." We have only one remark to make about this and that is that the fictitious editor of the Bulletin will pass through Calgary on his way to Regina on the 14th inst., and that Mr. Ben Gouin should be engaged to wait on him and ask for an explanation.

Mr. Beaufort of the Tribune, who has recently become a happy father, says that the sensation of going home and finding a baby in the house has not been given its proper amount of attention by writers generally. He is engaged in analyzing the sensation at present and will publish his investigations further on. In the meantime we congratulate our brother "Ed." whose smiles betoken that the sensation is not unpleasant.

Mr. W. Ramsay proprietor of the Orilla Carriage Works and Chairman of Public Works in that prosperous town on Lake Simcoe and Couchiching gave the HERALD a call yesterday evening, he like all the level headed men was struck with the appearance of the town and surrounding country and realized the fact that he was only in the suburbs of the great west when at Brandon and Regina. He will give the town a longer call on his return from Banff.

The Late Andrew Leeson.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Mr. Andrew Leeson, whose remains were committed to the silent tomb yesterday, was born at Smiths Falls County of Lanark Province of Ontario, he was 50 years old at the time of his death which took place at Spokane Falls two weeks ago Saturday last, he was never married. Mr. Leeson held the position of superintendent of bridge construction of the Northern Pacific Railway for a long time and was in active discharge of his duties when the accident occurred which resulted in his death thirteen hours later. He had left the station with a gang of men ahead of a freight train the freight train here in sight behind them at a narrow pass and they were obliged to set their hand car up on its side against a bank and hold it there for the train to pass. Mr. Leeson stepped across the track to pick up something and then stepped back to the side where his men were. No one knows how the accident took place, but it is supposed some gravel must have given way under his feet and caused him to sway towards the track, when the engine struck him on the side, throwing him a great distance, breaking several ribs and inflicting other severe injuries. The train was reversed at once and the injured man taken to Spokane Falls. No less than seven doctors were called, but their services were of no avail to save his life.

The railway company with whom he was very popular, wired his brother Mr. Geo. K. Leeson at Calgary. When death took place a solid steel coffin with plate glass front was procured, the body embalmed and placed in it to await the ar-ival of his brother from here. Mr. Geo. K. Leeson returned to Calgary with the remains yesterday morning. A number of gentlemen met Mr. Leeson at the 3:35 a. m. train. The remains were taken to his home. At 2 p. m. Sunday the funeral proceeded to the Cathedral Church of the Redeemer where the beautiful service for the dead of the Episcopal Church was taken by his Lordship Bishop Pinkham. The cortege was formed from the church to Calgary cemetery where the rector Rev. A. W. F. Cooper took the service.

The chief mourners were his brothers Geo. K. and William Leeson and his cousin John K. Shirley. The pall bearers were Chas. Watson, D. W. Moore, Joseph Bannerman, W. D. Moaroe, Geo. Murdoch, M. S. Dillabaugh, Joseph Maw and Malcolm McKinnon. The employees of the Northern Pacific Railway furnished a splendid wreath of artificial flowers for the coffin with the letters B. B. N. P. R. R. They also raised the sum of $1,000 in a few minutes to erect a monument to the memory of their lamented friend Andrew Leeson.

The Best things to Drink.
 If a man must drink, the best thing he can take with his meals is a little claret or light Rhine wine, and if he wants something a little stronger, pure Scotch whiskey is the best thing he can have. The habit of taking a drink early in the morning—I mean by drink a cocktail or stimulant of that kind commonly called an eye opener, is one of the worst things that can possibly be done. The effect of alcohol is to inflame the stomach, and it will do this even when diluted with food or anything else, and will do so a great deal more when taken on an empty stomach early in the morning. Men should not maintain their strength throughout the day by taking stimulants. To keep up by means of alcohol is very bad, and by and by the system will break down entirely under it. The best drink that a man can possibly take is milk. Milk though, is hardly a drink. One can live longer on it than on any one thing. Milk is more nearly a perfect food than anything; it contains more elements that go to build up the system than any other article. Early in the morning the best thing to drink is water. That is if one must drink, but if he can get along without drinking so much the better. Some drink hot water, some cold, and some hot and cold milk. All of these are good in their way. Tea and coffee drunk in moderation will not hurt anybody, although they are both stimulants.—A Physician in Philadelphia Press.

A Disputable Viscount.
 The London correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, Sept. 8, contains the following:—"Two more members of Britain's nobility were in the police courts this week in the persons of Viscount Hinton and the Viscountess, who were charged with causing a nuisance by playing a barrel organ in front of a hotel after they had been ordered to desist. The Viscount is heir to the noble Earl Poulett, of Hinton, St. George, Crewkerne, and Halsey Park gardens. The Earl, however, conceived a dislike to the Viscount because he was born only five months after the nobleman had made a love match with Eliza Savine, the daughter of a pilot, a simple village maiden who had had a lover before she married above her station. Being born in wedlock, however, the Viscount is heir to the earldom and estates, but the Earl has steadfastly refused to maintain the offspring of his countess. The Viscount, therefore, after having run through all post-obits he could raise on his prospective estates, has been put to great straits to obtain a livelihood. He was at one time a clown and pantomimist at the Surrey theatre, but for the past year or two has played a barrel organ in the streets. He married a ballet dancer, who figures in the pageant as "Viscountess Hinton," while their offspring, who follow the organ and pass the cup for pennies, are solemnly registered as "Hon. William, Henry, George Hinton" and "Hon. Maud Marie Hinton." Earl Poulett, who is 56 years of age, has been doing his best since the birth of the Viscount to dispose of everything possible on his estate, so that his heir may inherit as little as need be. The entailed estates fall to the Viscount in spite of the Earl, but he has cut down all the timber on them and reduced their value as much as possible, disposing as well of every lot of land that is not entailed. The Viscount was fined forty shillings for causing a nuisance, and her Ladyship was discharged with a caution.

Mother.—You must remember, my dear, that your father had a good deal of horse sense, which charity hasn't.—Terre Haute Express.

SOME DIFFERENCE.
Daughter.—But, mamma, you ought not to object to Charley on account of his poverty, I'm sure he has as much money as father had when he married you. I've often heard you say you were as poor as church mice when you married.

THE IDEA DOESN'T TAKE.
 Archdeacon Farrar's fervid plea for the establishment of an order of mendicant monks in the Episcopal Church in England and the United States meets with a very chilling response from the church organs. After mercilessly ridiculing the whole idea. The Churchman says, that even if such an order were desirable, it could not be founded by a well-paid, well-fed archdeacon.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Isle of Man, a small fertile island situated in the Irish sea, belonging to Great Britain, not only enjoys home rule, but all the women are permitted to vote. The population numbers about 50,000 persons. They have a parliament of their own called the house of keys, composed of delegates elected by the people, and another branch composed of the governor, who is appointed by the crown, and the chief officers of the island, together with the deacons or magistrates, who pass upon the acts of the house of keys; and altogether they seem to be a very happy and prosperous family. The political agitations that disturb the mother country do not disturb them.—[Belva A. Lockwood, in the New York World.]

Mummy Wheat.

In a discussion which recently took place at the congress of the Botanical Society of France on the question of "mummy wheat," the opinion of the best men was that grains of corn found in Egyptian tombs would have lost all reproductive vitality. M. Valourin declared that he could not accept the stories as to the growth of mummy corn. He had experimented with it with no result, and in every case where it had grown it had been found to be a modern variety.

Going Home.

A number of Chinamen are going home on the steamship Port Fairy. They came through from the east in bond and are mostly merchants who have made their fortunes in New York and Brooklyn in the last five years and are returning home where they can live like princes for the rest of their natural lives. There are 32 of them in the party and all of them speak more or less English and are said to be very clean, intelligent people. Yesterday morning on the arrival of the steamer North Pacific at Port Townsend from Victoria three Mongolians stepped ashore, but did not proceed far when they were taken into custody by the inspector of customs. The Chinamen had certificates that they were merchants, but the inspector was not to be misled by such a statement as he knew by their appearance that they were coolies, and consequently they were returned to British soil on board the Olympian.—Am. A Military Blunder.

Attempts have been made to hush up a deplorable military blunder, says a Vienna letter to the London "Times," by which a soldier of the thirteenth hussars has been killed, while twenty-six of his comrades and eighty-seven horses were more or less injured. It seems that July 30 the thirteenth Hussar regiment, which is quartered at Budapest, was being inspected. The exercises lasted two hours, and were well executed, but when men and horses were quite exhausted from their work, Col. von Illes unexpectedly gave the command for a charge at full gallop. The animals were too tired to answer to the spur. Many of them broke down, others tried to jump over those on the ground, others shied and dashed out of the ranks. All this passed so rapidly that before the trumpet could sound a halt the ground was strewn with dismounted troopers and injured horses. Beside the hussar who has died, there are three others in the hospital who are not expected to recover from their injuries, thirteen who are recovering from fractures and ten from slighter wounds. Out of the eighty-seven chargers which had to be consigned to the veterinary hospital, a considerable number will no doubt be unfit for further service.

A HEAVY DRAIN.

A San Francisco newspaper thinks that $12,000,000 is yearly drained by the Chinese through various channels from a city of 300,000 inhabitants. It figures this way:—There are 40,000 Chinese in San Francisco. These persons earn at least $1 a day each, over and above their board. That is $40,000 a day, $1,040,000 a month of 26 days, and over $12,000,000 a year. Most of this money, it thinks goes directly or indirectly to China, never to return.—Rochester Democrat.

PRINCE VICTOR NAPOLEON.

Prince Victor Napoleon is tall and dark and looks more like his Italian mother than his father. He is devoted to all that appertains to Bonaparte and the First Empire, and has gathered together a valuable collection of Petit Caporal relics in his home at Brussels, including some curious love-letters from Napoleon I. to Josephine, written whilst she was still the beautiful widow, Mme. Beauharnais. Strangely enough, Prince Victor has a great "cult" for the lovely creole whom Napoleon I. threw off so cruelly, and has managed to obtain nearly all the white and golden furniture which filled her boudoir at Malmaison.—Ex.

THE "JERSEY LILY."

Maria Aimee Le Queune is quite correct in saying that Mrs. Langtry's real Christian name is not Lily, as it is generally supposed to be. She received at her baptism the two names of Emilie Charlotte. The writer adds that when staying in England Mrs. Langtry shortly after her marriage used to hold receptions which were regularly attended by the Prince of Wales. At these receptions, and as she often does at other times, Mrs. Langtry used invariably to wear lilies, the lily being her favorite flower; and the Prince, who noticed this, nick-named her "Lily," a name which she adopted from that time to the exclusion of her two others. Miss Le Queune is doubtless right in the matter, having naturally been interested, as Miss Le Queune is herself privileged to sign the name of one of the best families in the island of Jersey.

Ex-Mayor Shelton is somewhat better. He took a walk from Mr. Yarlett's up to his store yesterday afternoon.

There was almost a fire on Abbott street, section 16, yesterday forenoon. Smoke was noticed issuing from the roof of a frame house occupied by a man named Floocy. He was away working at the Eau Claire Mills at the time. All the men living in the neighborhood were also away from home. The women rallied to the rescue and piling barrels and boxes on top of each other, the lady of the house climbed on the roof and cut a hole with an axe. The fire thus got vent and burst out in quite a lively flame. A bucket brigade was instantly formed and a few pails of water being dumped down, the fire was soon extinguished.
